HARBERTSON MEETS STEVE JORDAN TONIGHT

Preceded by some good preliminaries and a popular battle royal, the wrestling match between Jack Harbertson and Steven Jordan will take place at the Lyceum theater tonight. Carpenters and painters gave the finishing touches to the interior of the theater this afternoon and an ideal auditorium has been filled up for the match. The place has been put in condition for a season of musical comedy and will be occupied by an audience tonight for the first time in months.

Harbertson showed his splendid form last evening in an exhibition match with Ray Christopherson, one of his husky training partners. The exhibition was to have been given by Chris Jordan and Steven Jordan but when it was learned that the two could not be present, Harbertson was called in. Although Christopherson weighs 190 pounds and is a clever man, Harbertson threw him for the first fall in seven minutes and for the second fall in two minutes.

Only a few fans have seen Steve Jordan work out but those who have declare he is the possessor of great strength but does not have the speed or the science of the local man. His greater strength is expected to prove a difficulty that Harbertson must overcome in order to win.

Mike Yokel, who is to meet Chris Jordan, world's champion in Salt Lake Monday evening, will referee the match tonight.

TRACK LAYING WILL BE COMPLETED TOMORROW

J. M. Read, assistant manager of the Ogden Rapid Transit company, states that track laying for the Twenty-seventh street extension will be completed by tomorrow evening and that the trolley wires are now being strung. The line will be in operation within the next few weeks.

The track has been laid over Jefferson avenue between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-seventh streets, and the paving of that avenue will be finished shortly. Cars will be run as soon as the paving is done.

Manager Kline will return from the east in the course of a few days when the date for opening the Twenty-seventh street line will be announced.

JURYMAN OBJECTS TO THE WAY A CASE HAS DRAGGED

In Judge N. J. Harris division of the district court this morning the case of C. F. Schade et al against the Ogden Overall and Shirt company et al, was resumed.

This case has been on since last July, during which time a jury has been held at the disposal of the court. This morning when an effort was made to again continue the hearing, one of the juryman objected saying that the juryman should be considered as well as others and he did not think it fair to hold them on the case and have it tried by piecemeal. The court said he considered the point well taken and he insisted that the trial go on.

FIRST NUMBER ON LECTURE COURSE OF ACADEMY

The Weber lecture committee has received a letter from Prof. LeRoy E. Cowles, principal of the Carbon county high school, in which he says in part:

"We had Grace Lewis and company last Friday evening. I consider them a very fine company and they will make good with your audience. Miss Lewis is a charming personality and wins the hearts of her audiences. The singer and violinist are splendid artists. You need not be afraid to advertise them strongly. Miss Townsend will captivate everybody with her charming voice and winning personality. Mr. Blair is only a boy but he is every inch an artist."

Miss Lewis and company will be in Ogden tomorrow evening.

NO RAGGING AT THE LOST HIS $30 AND DANCES AT THE HIGH SCHOOL LANDED IN THE CITY BASTILE

To correct a misapprehension on the part of a few citizens that "ragging" is being taught to students in the city schools and that some of the latest alleged dances are permitted in high school social functions, Professor H. Peterson, principal of the Ogden high school, and Supt. J. M. Mills have issued invitations to parents to attend such socials to see for themselves that the dances are conducted with all propriety. An invitation was extended to parents to attend the matinee dance at the high school auditorium this afternoon for that reason.

Just how such a report was circulated, neither Principal Peterson nor Supt. Mills has been able to learn. Supt. Mills has had parents, who are opposed to dancing, request that their children be excused from the classes in the simple folk steps. To such people the superintendent has explained that social dancing is not taught in the schools. Only those dances which make for gracefulness and teach rhythm are given and such steps are taught for the sake of the physical exercise that is beneficial.

It was much for the purpose of removing the alarm of some parents that the exhibition was given at the recent meeting in the high school auditorium when the place was filled with parents. An exhibition of the exercises taught were given.

"I have heard it said that students 'rag' at the high school social functions," said Supt. Mills today, "when, as a matter of fact, the dances given at the high school are on a much higher plane than others. Whoever circulated such a rumor had evidently never attended a social function at the school."

At the informal dance being given in the high school auditorium this afternoon, the high school orchestra is furnishing the music. This is the first time in a number of years that the school has been able to secure its music without going outside the institution.

Deaths and Funerals

PAYNE—With Bishop John Hall officiating, the funeral services for Joseph E. Payne were held in the Huntsville meeting house yesterday afternoon. The speakers were Mrs. Julia A. Nelson, Mrs. Georgina Marriott, Adam L. Peterson and E. A. Larkin. The interment was in the Huntsville cemetery.

JENSEN—Funeral services for P. Jensen were held yesterday morning in the Huntsville meeting house with Bishop John Hall officiating. Music was rendered by the ward choir. The speakers were Alma Peterson, Christian Schade, David McKay and Bishop Hall. The interment was in the Huntsville cemetery.

EKMAN—Funeral services for Mrs. Johanna Ekman were held in the Middleton ward meeting house yesterday afternoon, with Bishop Francis Bingham officiating. Music was given by the ward choir and Miss Eugenia Wilson. The speakers were John Felt, Sr., Andrew P. Renstrom and Bishop Bingham. Interment was in the Huntsville cemetery.

ANDERSON—Bryante Anderson, a resident of Ogden since 1881, died of general debility at the Dee hospital Wednesday afternoon. He is survived by one son and two daughters. The remains are at the Lindquist establishment pending funeral arrangements.

JONES—Funeral services for the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Jones were held yesterday. The child died Wednesday afternoon following a severe attack of stomach trouble. Interment was in the Ogden City cemetery.

MANLEY—Mrs. Margaret Manley, a resident of Utah for 30 years, died at the residence of her son, Patrolman James Hearn, 820 Twenty-fourth street, at 8:15 o'clock last night. Her death was due to general debility. Mrs. Manley was born in Ireland, June 20, 1833. Thirty years ago she came to Utah and has since resided in Ogden or points along the Southern Pacific. Having kept a boarding house for railroad employees for a number of years, she is well known in railroad circles. She was an attendant at St. Joseph's church. The body was removed to the Larkin establishment pending funeral arrangements.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Enlarged estimates of the Argentine export surplus contended to give the wheat market today a bearish aspect. The opening ranged from 1-8c lower to 1-8c higher and gradually underwent an all around sag below yesterday's close.

First sales of provisions were unchanged to 5-7-1-2c lower, with the market showing no signs of a rally. The wheat close nevertheless was weak at 1-4-3-4 to 9-8c lower.

The corn was easy, 3-8 to 5-8 down. Judge W. H. Reeder of the police court almost had a vacation this morning. He had but one prisoner before him, Jose Spits, charged with drunkenness.

Just told a wonderful story of adventure. In the first place he had come down from a job near Morgan with about $30. After he had met a few friends yesterday and had taken several drinks, he was "rolled" for his remaining coin, also an overcoat and a shotgun. When he discovered that his intoxicated condition demanded sleep, he found he had no money with which to procure a bed so he went to the police station.

When Spits asked Jailer Hagbert Anderson for lodging, the jailer asked Spits why he had no money. Spits frankly replied that he had spent it to get drunk so the jailer locked him up on a drunkenness charge.

Spits said he knew where the shotgun had been pawned so Judge Reeder gave him a suspended sentence to lead the police to the clue that might result in the capture of the thief.

William Stage forfeited $5 ball by non appearance to the charge of drunkenness.

POLL TAXES

I. W. W. ORATORS ON STREET CORNERS AT NIGHT

Following a largely attended and enthusiastic street meeting last night, the members of the I. W. W., who have made their stay in Ogden interesting, dropped from sight and the police believe that they have kept their promise to leave Ogden.

The meeting at Twenty-fifth street and Hudson avenue was attended by about 300 people who listened to the orators with attention, but the applauding was by the I. W. W. members themselves. Each speaker addressed the crowd as "Fellow Workers" and then proceeded to point out the horrible industrial conditions that exist in this city. Some new and surprising disclosures were made.

STORAGE BATTERIES CHARGED FROM STATION

Although the new storage battery station in the depot building is not quite ready for business, the first passenger coach was placed on the siding adjoining the station today and will probably be charged early tomorrow. Electricians are at work today installing the necessary electrical apparatus for a first class charging station. The place will be operated under the direction of the signal service department.

The station is located in the remodeled quarters formerly occupied by the depot heating plant. When the boilers were removed from the space upon the completion of the new heating plant, the room was put in order for the charging station.

For some time the necessity of a charging station has been evident to the signal service officials and it was planned to put up a building in the south end of the yards. When the heating plant was removed, however, that space was applied for because of its nearness to the main passenger tracks. When the new plant is in operation, the old one at the signal service building will be used only for emergencies.

The new plant will charge the storage batteries in the electric lighted trains. While dynamos are used for lighting such trains, the storage batteries are required for the lamps when the train is not in motion. Also, the storage batteries for the block signal service will be charged there. With the exception of the block on the cut-off, all signals are operated by storage batteries.

BIG CIRCUS IS ON AT THE ACADEMY

Everything is now in readiness for the Junior circus which will be the attraction at the Weber academy tonight. Plenty of red lemonade, similarly tinted popcorn and various kinds of refreshments will be served. With the exception of the block on the cut-off, all signals are operated by storage batteries.

In addition to the big show, which will consist of a program of acrobatics, daring activity of aerial gymnasts, antics of clowns and feats of trained animals; there will be a side show of freaks and monstrosities that will bring gasps from the spectators. There will also be plenty of circus music.

Shop Here Tomorrow

Come to the Big Store tomorrow and share the savings which abound in all departments—they are made possible by the Harvest sale.

There is a satisfaction in shopping at this big, well-ventilated store, with its ample light, its broad aisles, its air of cleanliness. We believe, too, that our great crowd of helpers are as courteous as you will find clerks anywhere. We aim to select helpers who are well bred—who will take a personal interest in your wants.

With the improvements, just completed, you'll find shopping here very convenient—with the large opening in the north wall leading into the remodeled Shoe and Clothing Departments.

And before you leave home for your shopping tours, you read our advertisements with perfect confidence. The manager's instruction to the ad. man is to never overstate—rather underestimate.

And tomorrow you will find many attractions which will make your shopping, not only pleasant, but also profitable.

Wright's A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE

Society

Last Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. H. D. Bagley was hostess to the Ladies of the Literary society at her home, 2455 Monroe avenue. After the following report on the Federation meeting at Brigham City had been read by the president, Mrs. John Culley and Mrs. Carr entertained with several musical selections. The report is as follows:

"Madam President and Ladies: The Ladies' Literary club of Ogden has a limited membership of twenty, all very active. The object of the club according to our constitution is 'The mutual benefit of its members in literary work.' Some latitude is allowed, however, in the interpretation of the term 'literary work' as my report will show.

"Our program for 1912-13 included a most interesting series of 'Seeing America First' talks, giving personal experiences and impressions of different members. Several who had been abroad gave accounts of their travels. Another feature of the program was the review of notable articles from current magazines. A special musical afternoon to which guests were invited; a civic day; a Lincoln day; and an anniversary celebration were included in the program.

Some time was devoted to civic work.

"Three of our members acted on the central committee of club women having in charge the League of Good Citizenship in the schools. Committees were appointed to conduct the monthly league meetings and our club invariably had a liberal representation on the committees. Through the united efforts of the club women of Ogden, the school garden idea was launched and the planting of home gardens and the cultivation of vacant lots were stimulated. The Ogden public bureau gave both moral and financial support to this movement.

"At Christmas time packages of toys and clothing were sent to many poor children. On Mother's day we took twenty-five old ladies in automobiles to the meeting conducted by the Child Culture club at the opera house. The pleasure experienced by the old ladies was out of all proportion to the effort it cost us.

"We are working along similar lines this year, endeavoring always to keep in mind the club motto: 'Still achieving, still pursuing.'"

Mrs. White and Mrs. Purdy were honored guests of the club. The hostess served a most temptingly prepared luncheon.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Halloween party given by the Ninth Ward Sunday school, arranged by the Second-Third year class, in the Ninth ward amusement hall, Thursday, October 23, was one of the most delightful successes of the season.

The Halloween program, commencing about 8 p. m., was greatly enjoyed by a large audience, and ran as follows:

Vocal solo Dean Rawson
Vocal duet Cleopha Stephens
Recitation Belva Balentine
Halloween farce, "Clever Match-makers," in which the following girls took part: Cleopha Stephens, Lavin

Petty, Ellen Wright, Ira Weaver, Gladys Richardson, Marguerite Norton, Viola Critchlow, Verla Richardson, Margaret Jay, Jessie McFarland, Mabel Robinson, Margaret Johansen, and Ruth Rasmussen.

Recitation Wilma Sandstrom
Piano solo Thelma Woodmansee
Vocal duet Petty and Ruth Rasmussen
The hall was filled to capacity, when at 9 p. m., dancing was begun. Beautiful Halloween decorations predominated. Refreshments, pumpkin pie and home-made candy, were enjoyed.

RECITAL TONIGHT.
Miss Lena Lane and Miss Harriet Atchison, graduates of the Chicago Training school, arrived in Ogden today and this evening in the First Baptist church on Grant avenue the young ladies will give a recital. The program arranged will consist of musical selections and recitations. Miss Atchison possesses an unusually sweet voice and her singing is always more than enjoyed. Miss Lane's stage presence and impersonations are perfect. No admission will be charged and a cordial invitation has been extended to everyone.

ENTERTAINED
The members of the Ogden stake primary board entertained at the home of Miss Flora Belnap, Tuesday evening, in honor of the Misses Viola and Helen Taylor, who will make their future home in California.

The evening was pleasantly spent in playing games. Dainty refreshments were served.

Those present were: Mesdames Emily Oborn, Jennie F. Budge, Misses Viola and Helen Taylor, Charlotte Stallings, Florence and Le Rone Zisman, Mary Story, Ellen Youngstrom, Nellie and Lillie Oborn, Olive and Flora Belnap, Messrs. Arthur Budge, Stephen L. Price, Earl Pardo, Heber Foulger, Hyrum A. Belnap and Taylor Peery.

WILL ENTERTAIN W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Flewelling, 321 Twentieth street, will entertain the ladies of the W. C. T. U. and their friends tomorrow afternoon from 2 o'clock until 5 in honor of the Misses Lena Lane and Harriet Atchison who appear in recital at the Baptist Masse this evening.

Dainty refreshments will be served by the hostess.

ANNA HELD TRAIN TO BREAK RECORD

In order that an evening performance may be given in Cheyenne and the company will be able to fill a matinee engagement in Salt Lake the next day, the Union Pacific company is planning to run the Anna Held special train at a rate that will equal or surpass the record of the Sarah Bernhardt special last spring. Anna Held and her big company will be in Ogden next Friday after playing two performances in Salt Lake on Thursday. The company is traveling special across the continent and but few stops will be made between Chicago and the coast.
